

The sheer volume of people that have signed up for the Wisconsin "Do Not Call" list should make it very evident to the FCC that these people do not want to be disturbed at home by solicitors. The public has a right to privacy in their own home. Current Wisconsin law should not be overridden.